Stud Dog Qualifications and Guarantees

1. Stud Dog must have Adult registration papers from the International Shiloh Shepherd™ Registry.
2. Stud must be certified clear of Canine Hip Dysplasia by either OFA or PennHip radiographs or by approval from the Breed Warden.
3. Stud owner certifies with test results that stud has acceptable sperm count levels. Individual sperm should be well-formed and motile.
4. Stud owner certifies with test results (conducted after the last breeding) that said Stud is free of canine brucellosis and is in good health at the time of breeding or semen collection.
5. The owner of the Stud Dog guarantees conception of two live puppies per breeding. If two or more puppies are not conceived, a second breeding (mating or insemination) will be provided and will count towards this one free breeding.
6. If, after second mating or insemination, the Bitch fails to conceive, Stud services will be offered once more (counting towards one free breeding), only after the Bitch has undergone complete reproductive examination and has had ovulation timing, and Stud has had sperm testing (if not done so already).

Natural Breedings

Stud Dog Owner Responsibilities

1. Stud owner must have transport for breeding Bitch from the Bitch owner’s care or airline counter.
2. Stud owner must have safe, secure housing facilities (eg. concrete pad with 6ft. chain-link fence, topped with roof cover, and wire crate) for the bitch during her visit to the Stud. If such facilities are not available at the Stud owner’s home, arrangements should be made with a local veterinarian for boarding, at Stud owner’s expense. If possible, the breedings can then be conducted at the vet clinic/hospital, again, at the Stud owner’s expense.
3. The breeding Bitch will be provided with normal, everyday care while residing with the Stud owner. This does not include special dietary concerns and extensive exercise regimes.
4. Stud owner guarantees a minimum of three matings or “ties” between the Bitch and Stud.
5. Stud owner will assume responsibility of the Bitch while in owner’s care, which includes cost of housing and feeding, or boarding, and any veterinarian visits necessary due to breeding or Stud dog owner negligence (eg. dog fight, injury during breeding, accidental tie by neighbor’s dog). Any genetic or pre-disposed tendencies (eg. bloat) will be the responsibility of both parties.

Artificial Inseminations

Stud Dog Owner Responsibilities

1. Stud owner must have live semen collected and tested two weeks prior to AI for quantity, health, and motility. This is necessary in case of poor quality or quantity sperm, the Bitch owner can make other Stud service arrangements.
2. Stud owner must coordinate with Bitch owner to determine the Bitch’s peak time of conception to arrange for a viable semen collection.
3. Stud owner must have pre-arranged appointment with her/his local vet to conduct semen collection. At collection, semen must be tested for quantity, health, and motility.
4. Stud owner will pay for costs of the semen collection and overnight, or same-day, secured shipment to the Bitch owner and will be compensated for costs from Breeder, unless other arrangements are made. (surgical insemination- only one collection and shipment is necessary). There will be two shipments per breeding that will be sent to the Bitch owner for insemination. Please note that time is of the essence when shipping fresh, chilled semen. Frozen sperm is not recommended as, at this time, it is not very reliable for actual conception.
5. If the first insemination does not take or less than two puppies are conceived, the Stud owner will furnish additional sperm for a second breeding (counting towards the first one free breeding).
6. Stud owner must send additional semen for third AI, providing that the breeding Bitch has had a clear reproductive exam. Additional arrangements may also be considered if the Stud and Bitch are not producing together.
